

In Science, Year 6 have been looking at living things and their habitats. We have looked at classifying animals into specific groups based on their characteristics.

Today we looked at whether yeast was a living thing. Children were able to put together their own observation to show that yeast excretes carbon dioxide, which made the balloon blow up.

